STILL MISSING

Search on for Cafe Coffee Day Founder V.G. Siddhartha

Mangaluru, July 30 (UNI& Agencies)- V.G. Siddhartha, son-in-law of former Chief Minister S.M. Krishna and founder of India's largest coffee chain Cafe Coffee Day (CCD) is reportedly missing since last evening.

According to sources, Siddhartha, who had left Bengaluru yesterday had told his driver Basavaraj Patil that they would be travelling towards Sakaleshpur, but in the midway Siddhartha decided to visit Mangaluru instead. Later, on the way, he is said to have asked Patil to stop the car at Nethravathi River Bridge near Ullal at about 7 pm.

Soon after getting down from the car, Siddhartha, who was on call with someone, is said to have asked his driver to wait on the other side of the road but he never returned even after an hour. A panicked driver went down looking for him, but could not find Siddhartha anywhere. He then alerted the family members who in turn informed the Police.

V.G. Siddhartha

On receiving the information, Dakshina Kannada Police rushed to the spot and launched a massive search for Siddhartha. According to sources, the Police have deployed 100 fire-fighters, 100 Policemen, 50 divers, 50 fishermen and 30 boats for the search operations.

It is also said that Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa has sought the Centre's help to deploy navy divers for the search operations.

Udupi-Chikkamagalur MP Shobha Karandlaje too has written to Union Home Minister Amit Shah seeking his help and to deploy Indian Navy personnel to trace Siddhartha.

Speaking to media persons, Mangaluru Police Commissioner Sandeep Patil said, "They (Siddhartha and driver Patil) were crossing National Highway 66 and the driver was asked to stop the car at the bridge over Nethravathi River near Ullal. He was talking on his mobile phone when he asked his driver to stop the car and is said to have walked away from the car. He told his driver he would be back soon and that was the last time his driver saw him."

MLA U.T. Khader, who rushed to the spot, is overseeing the search operations. The Police, who are questioning people whom Siddhartha spoke to on Monday, are also looking into call records of his driver Patil. Sources said that the Police were also seeking information from employees at Coffee Day Square in Bengaluru.

Brindavan Gardens' designer

Krumbiegel's great-granddaughter in city

To immerse ashes of her mother in Cauvery

Mysuru, July 30 (NNN)- Brindavan Gardens' designer Gustav Herman Krumbiegel's great-granddaughter Alyia Phelps Gardiner Krumbiegel is on a visit to the city.

She is visiting Mysuru and Bengaluru on a purpose and that is to immerse the ashes of her mother Jean Maureen Phelps Gardiner, who had passed away in Jan. 2018 in England.

Speaking to Star of Mysore here this morning, Alyia said that she had brought her mother's ashes to India to immerse it in the rivers here, as she (Jean Maureen) always felt that her home was in India.

"My mother passed away on Jan. 18. 2018 and I was very clear that her body had to be cremated and not buried.

Alyia Phelps Gardiner Krumbiegel

Hence, I had to wait for nearly three weeks as I had to book the slot for her cremation in advance. Finally, the slot that was available was Feb.5, 2018 and it was then she was cremated. She had told me that her heart was always in India and hence to respect her last wishes I have brought her ashes to the country she always loved," said Alyia.

Gustav Herman Jean Maureen

Alyia has already immersed a part of the ashes in Waynad, Kerala and she has plans to immerse it in River Cauvery in Srirangapatna shortly, she said.

She will also be visiting the Mysuru Zoo with a letter to the Executive Director requesting him to display a plaque of her great-grandfather Krumbiegel who had also planned the Gardens in Sri Chamarajendra Zoological Gardens.

Vishweshwar Hegde Kageri

candidate from the Opposition JD(S) and Congress filed nomination before the deadline. The election to the post was scheduled for tomorrow (July 31).

With no other candidate filing nomination, Kageri's election as the new Speaker will be officially announced tomorrow.

Machine-managed medicare

According to the index of objects launched into outer space, maintained by the United Nations Office for Outer Space Affairs, there were 4,987 satellites orbiting planet Earth at the start of this year. More than 16,000 previously launched objects are learnt to have decayed into Earth's atmosphere. While these numbers, awesome as they are, may or may not make lay people appreciate the enormous effort that has been made in the field of space exploration over years by teams in different countries, including India, reaching the point of making complex machines land on the surface of Mars and communicate data leading to deeper understanding of the answer to the question of whether human beings can colonise other planets. The knowledge and machines emerging out of the space exploration programmes, according to knowledgeable sources, have benefited the field of medicare to an extent that medicare has come to be heavily dependent on machines in use nowadays for both diagnosis of the cause of a multitude of ailments bugging people and also the most appropriate line of treatment. Nearly 6,000 devices are said to be in use nowadays by medical practitioners in India's super-speciality hospitals. Even time-honoured methods and means of measuring body temperature and blood pressure have witnessed emergence of their far better versions.

People at large form opinion on both doctors and hospitals based on many factors including the factor of getting well as a result of treatment by the former and the factor of efficiency of the staff of the latter, not to forget the costs involved. Two other factors that may not count in the matter of judging the merit of the above-mentioned factors are the resources spent on training a doctor and on equipping the hospital with state-of-the-art devices which cost a bomb.

The multitude of issues relating to the healthcare sector of the country are being raised on many platforms. Although this year's budgetary allocation for health spending by the Government of India is a rise of 15.9 per cent over last year's budget, the air is abuzz with the verdict that the allocated money is not enough to make Bharat 'Ayushman.' Funds needed for the country's defence forces to be tip-top and also for meeting the steadily rising oil import bill are gobbling the resources at the command of the Government. In that backdrop, the exercise of allocating public funds for many other sectors of the economy, including healthcare of 135 crore population amounts to tight-rope walking. One of the measures just announced by the Ministry of Health, namely regulation relating to medical devices, particularly monetary compensation to patients suffering due to faulty devices sold by companies, is most timely. The cost of medicare inevitable for many life-threatening illnesses being prohibitive, although facilities and services of world class are currently available in India to treat them appropriately, scope for treating other ailments without having to marshal high-cost devices merits to be considered by the medical profession.

TWO BHAKTS ANIMATEDLY DISCUSSING THE LAUNCH OF CHANDRAYAAN-2: 1st bhakt: *Scientists are saying that Chandrayaan-2 could discover water on the moon. Indian man hasn't cut or washed his hair in 40 years

Mandada: A 63-year-old man from Mandada village in Eastern India's Bihar State claims that he hasn't cut or washed his hair in over 40 years and has to kept his tangled 6-foot-long locks wrapped in a head cloth just to walk around without stepping on them.

Sakal Dev Tuddu, claims he has been growing his hair since he was 22. Augment extra First Class AC Executive Chair Car to Chennai-Mysuru Shatabdi

Sir,

Train number 12007/ 12008 Chennai-Mysuru Shatabdi Express has gained a very high patronage of late since its inception in 1994. The down train travels to Chennai Central with a 5 minute stop at Bengaluru. It is also high time now that the train is made to run daily instead of present 6 days a week.

The availability of one First Class AC Executive Chair Car (1A/EC), that is, coach E1 is overwhelming especially on weekends and festival holidays including Dasara festivities. However, sometimes the waitlist position is split into Bengaluru and Mysuru quota and runs to high numbers depriving a confirmed reservation. Thus without any suitable alternative to travel to Chennai, passengers are otherwise left with the only option to travel by Cauvery Express.

Hence, the South Western Railway authorities at Mysuru Division are hereby requested to urgently augment an extra First Class AC Executive Chair Car (E2) coach to train number 12007/12008 Chennai Central-Mysuru Shatabdi Express.

Sir,

The new Maharani's Commerce and Management College has opened on Valmiki Road about a year ago. Many students take buses to V.V. Mohalla - Akashavani Circle and reach the College by walk.

Hundreds of students cross the ever busy Valmiki Road to reach the College.

I request the authorities and the area Corporator to install road humps in front of the College and mark zebra crossing before anything untoward happens.

Kodagu BJP workers demand

Cabinet berth for Appachu Ranjan

Madikeri, July 30 (PS&DM)- With B.S. Yediyurappa winning the Floor Test in the Assembly by a voice vote on Monday, the expectations of BJP workers in Kodagu district have run high.

The district unit of the party is anticipating a Cabinet berth to Madikeri MLA Appachu Ranjan, a former Minister, in case the only other MLA from the district K.G. Bopaiah, who represents Virajpet Assembly segment, is appointed as the Speaker.

Appachu Ranjan belongs to the minority Kodava community and the people of Kodagu believe that a Cabinet berth to Ranjan will render justice to the district, which was devastated by last year's floods and landslides.

Appachu Ranjan, a former Minister of Youth Affairs and Sports, was born to Mandepanda Pooviah - Kamavva couple at Chembebellur in Virajpet taluk on Sept.11, 1957. After completing his Pre-University education in the district, Ranjan earned his degree from Vivekananda Degree College at Puttur in neighbouring Dakshina Kannada district. He was also a sportsperson, having led hockey and football teams during his college days.

Appachu Ranjan married Shyla and the couple have two sons and a daughter, all settled in the US. One of his sons, Vikram Poovaiah is working as a chip designer at a software company in America, while his other son Cariappa is a doctor and his daughter Ksheera is doing her higher studies.

Entry to politics

Beginning his career as a politician, Ranjan joined the BJP in the 1980s as a common worker and later became the School Development and Monitoring Committee (SDMC) President of Madapura Kumburu School as well as the President of Vyavasaya Seva Sahakara Niyamitha (VSSN), Madapura. He was elected as a Member of Agricultural Produce Market Committee (APMC), Kushalnagar and also as a Member of Kodagu District Coffee Planters' Association.

After functioning as the President of BJP Youth Wing at Madapura, Ranjan served as Somwarpet Taluk BJP President from 1986 to 1991.

Ranjan contested from Somwarpet Assembly segment for the first time and won by a handsome margin. Although he lost in the subsequent election in 1999, Ranjan entered the Assembly for the second time in 2004 and for the third time in 2008, defeating his nearest rival B.A. Jeevijaya of the Congress. He retained Somwarpet constituency for the BJP by again defeating Jeevijaya in 2013 by 4,629 votes, amidst an anti-BJP sentiment then.

Ranjan won for the record fifth time defeating Jeevijaya who had contested on a JD(S) ticket in 2018, with a comfortable margin of 16,015 votes. Ranjan, who is also a good sportsperson, won the 'Best Sportsperson' award at the Sports Meet held for Legislators from South India in 1997.

The Somwarpet MLA had made his own mark in the Legislature by being a part of many House Committees, including the Petitions Committee. He was also the Chairman of Karnataka Land Army Corporation Ltd. and Karnataka Sports Authority.

He caught the attention of the entire State when he undertook a 'Grama Vastavya' at Balegundi Haadi of Kodagu district in 2011. He served as the Minister of Youth Affairs and Sports in the Jagadish Shettar Cabinet in 2012-13, when he was also Kodagu District in-Charge Minister.

Ranjan played a crucial role in relief and rehabilitation operations in Kodagu district during last year's natural disaster, which caused a huge loss to the district, in terms of economy, ecology and environment. He was credited for saving the lives of many stranded persons by taking the NDRF team to the spot.

Ranjan showed his might when he undertook the task of reconstructing the fully damaged road at Kandanakolli that connects Madapura with Madikeri. Ranjan executed the job in a span of just one month with the help of local contractors. Ranjan has strived for the development of Sainik School at Kodagu, PG Centre at Chikka Aluvara and the Government Engineering College at Kushalnagar. He also played a big role in Kodagu getting a Government Medical College.

Jamma Baane problem

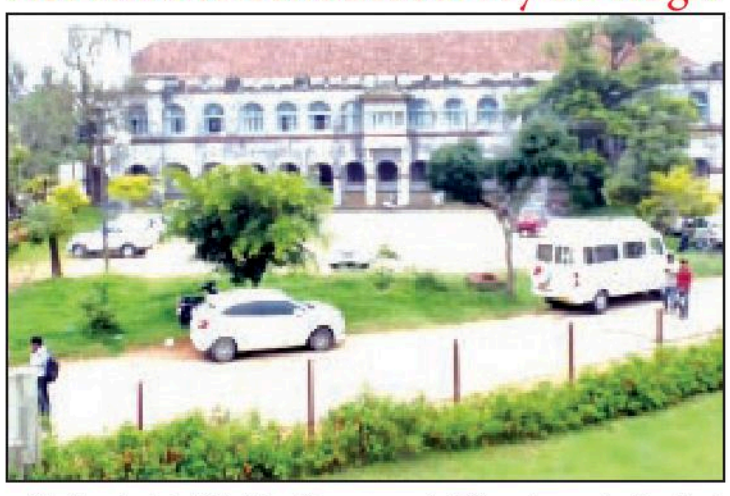
Appachu Ranjan has taken a lead role in finding a solution for the long-standing problem concerning Jamma Baane land.

He also took the lead in launching a movement against the Kasturirangan Report and construction of Kadamakallu-Subramanya Road, which he believes is an ecological disaster for the district.

While the Jamma Baane and Kasturirangan Report issues are to be addressed by the Union Government, the Kadamakallu-Subramanya Road is being challenged in the Supreme Court.

HC asks Govt. Offices to vacate Madikeri Fort by Oct.31

ASI team to conduct survey on Aug.1



Madikeri, July 30- The Karnataka High Court (HC) has directed all Government Offices located in Madikeri Fort premises to vacate by Oct.31, 2019.

The HC, which heard the plea recently, ordered the Government Offices to vacate the Fort. The Court passed the order after Government Pleader submitted that the Offices will move out of the Fort by the given deadline.

Following the Court order, the ASI, coming under the Union Ministry of Culture, will conduct a joint survey of the heritage Fort on Aug.1, along with the respondents and the petitioners.

High Court advocate N. Ravindranath Kamath argued on behalf of the petitioner.

Waterfalls Calling !

Visitors throng Gaganachukki, Barachukki and Hogenakal Falls

Gaganachukki Falls in Mandya district.

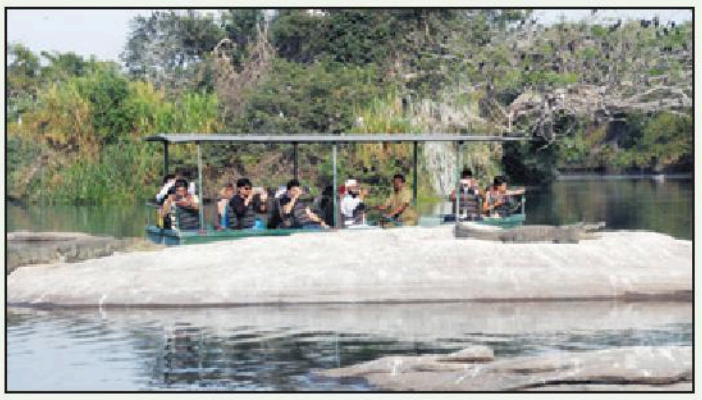
Chamarajanagar / Mandya, July 30- It is a known fact that the State is facing severe drought owing to deficit rainfall. But the recent rainfall in Cauvery and Kabini catchment areas have brought little respite to farmers and people living in the area. And with the water being released to Tamil Nadu through Kabini and KRS reservoirs, the waterfalls in the catchment areas have become a place worth to visit.

Both Chamarajanagar and Mandya districts are home for three famous waterfalls which attracts a large number of tourists not only from State but from the neighbouring Tamil Nadu and Kerala as well. While Hogenakkal Falls and Barachukki Falls are located in Chamarajanagar, the famous Gaganachukki Falls is in Mandya district.

All three waterfalls have been attracting visitors in large numbers. People have been taking photographs of the water cascading through the rocks and hills. Tourism activities have picked up in these places with vendors selling cold drinks and eatables.

Normally, all these three waterfalls are full to brim during rainy season (between July and December) and especially when water is released from KRS and Kabini reservoirs to Tamil Nadu.

No Boating in Ranganathittu



Meanwhile, boating operations have been temporarily suspended at Ranganathittu Bird Sanctuary in Srirangapatna from Sunday last as the flow in the Cauvery has significantly increased. The bird sanctuary is located on the banks of River Cauvery downstream of KRS reservoir near Srirangapatna and once water is released from the reservoir, it gushes downstream resulting in the increase of water level of the river in the sanctuary and the Forest Department, keeping the safety of tourists in mind, have withdrawn the boating activities. It will resume once the water level decreases and remains stable. However, there will not be any restrictions on entry of visitors to the sanctuary.

Ranganathittu Bird Sanctuary RFO Puttamadegowda said that due to increase in water flow and rise in water level, the tourists are unable to go for boating and hence the boating services have been suspended.

KSOU Board of Management
Members' nominations stayed

Mysuru, July 30 (SBD&NNN) - The recent nominations to the Board of Management (BoM) of Karnataka State Open University (KSOU) has been stayed by the orders of the new Government.

The members, who were nominated to the BoM, were all from the education field and they included Dattagalli resident Dr. Hiriyanna, Lakshmipuram resident Prof. S.P. Umadevi, Bogadi's Prof.D.S. Leelavathi, Vijayanagar's Dr. S. Marigowda and JSS College Assistant Professor Dr. M.N. Nandeesh.

Education Department (Universities) Additional Secretary M.A. Ahmed had issued a notification dated July 20, 2019 regarding the new nominations to KSOU BoM.

As there were objections to the nominations, the former Higher Education Minister G.T. Devegowda had in a statement clarified that the appointments to the Syndicates and Boards of Managements of Universities had been done in a transparent manner without giving scope for any corruption and if the allegations made against him were proved he would retire from politics.

However, in the changed political circumstances, after the BJP Government came to power, the orders of the previous Government have all been stayed. CM B.S. Yediyurappa has directed the Chief Secretary to immediately stay the appointments of Chairmen, Vice-Chairmen and Members to the Boards, Corporations and Authorities.

In the light of this order, the nominations to the Board of Management to KSOU has also been stayed until further orders.

And now, be ready to get smashed

Point of VIEW

T.J.S. George

From lynchings to definitions of anti-nationalism, intolerance has been the identifying mark of the Government. Political parties have drawn attention to this. Public intellectuals have written about it.

The noose is tightening around the freedoms that have kept India going. The Right to Information Act, as the very name suggests, was a pillar of democracy. It has now been abridged with an amendment. Another amendment, passed against strong protests from the Opposition, allows the Government to declare any citizen a terrorist. Arbitrary powers are being re-defined, tightened and legalised with an earnestness that is unsettling. Leading the drive, the Home Minister uses a language that is unusual in Parliamentary history. His use of terror tactics to terrorise the terrorists is adding to the gathering worries of citizens.

The general atmosphere is so bad that even corporate chieftains are forced to speak out. Generally, they are a reticent lot. Even when they went public, they usually confined themselves to business-related issues. The articulate Rahul Bajaj was a leading example. But a few days ago Adi Godrej spoke in a different tone. He weighed his words and spoke in measured tones. But he spoke. After congratulating the Prime Minister on his recently proclaimed grand vision of India as a $5 trillion economy, Godrej said: "With the growth vision and dreams firing away, it is not all a rosy picture. Impoverishment still massively plagues our nation. Rising intolerance, social instability, hate crimes, violence against women, moral policing, caste and religion-based violence and many other sorts of intolerance are rampant across the country."

Adi Godrej was not speaking for just himself. He was reflecting the general opinion of India Inc. This was underlined by Biocon chief Kiran Mazumdar Shaw's instant response, "Well Spoken." It is clear that business leaders just as much as other segments of the population are concerned about tendencies that have gained ground in India in the last five-six years. The widespread nature of this concern was highlighted again last week when 49 eminent people such as Shyam Benegal, Aparna Sen, Mani Ratnam and Binayak Sen wrote to the Prime Minister and said, among other things; "You have criticised lynchings Mr Prime Minister, but that is not enough. What action has actually been taken?... The use of Jai Sri Ram as a war cry leads to law and order problems. You must put a stop to the name of Ram being defiled in this manner." The letter made the crucial point: "No ruling party is synonymous with the country. Hence anti-government stands cannot be equated with anti-national sentiments." The day the letter was released, Amit Shah's Ministry told Parliament that communal violence was declining.

From lynchings to definitions of anti-nationalism, intolerance has been the identifying mark of the Government. Political parties have drawn attention to this. Public intellectuals have written about it. Student agitations in once-reputed universities such as JNU, Benares Hindu University and the University of Hyderabad have borne witness to it. Now corporate leaders have come out echoing the same concerns.

They have sufficient reasons even from the point of view of business. The wounds inflicted by the financial wizard Arun Jaitley were deep enough, thanks to such brainwaves as GST and demonetisation. In the first 50 days of Modi's second innings, the share market registered a loss of 11.7 lakh crore. Out of Bombay's 2,664 listed companies, 2,294 saw their shares going down. Unemployment is at 6.1 percent, a four-decade high. There is also concern beyond strictly business terms. As one corporate leader put it, "There is an impression that anyone who speaks against the Government will have to contend with a CBI inquiry or an I-T raid."

Now, they can also be called terrorist with a whole lot of consequences. The amendment passed last week to the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act empowers the Government to use the language of Amit Shah, the sutradhar of post-truth nationalism, to "smash" anyone declared a terrorist or Urban Maoist. He no doubt prefers smashing rather than slower procedures such as I-T raids. Last year they tried to smash Amnesty International, respected around the world and currently headed in India by Aakar Patel, one of the clearest and most sober voices in the country's public space. An ignorant BJP neta described Amnesty as a criminal organisation.

This is an India the world will scoff at no matter how many world leaders are hugged by our travelling Prime Minister. This India proves Plato's words: "Democracy gives opportunities for demagogues to rise. Demagogues work by rousing the emotions of one group against others."

Abracadabra...

Remembering Coffee Day Siddhartha at Vienna

However, there was compensation enough for us for that evening when we were taken by surprise seeing our own Cafe Coffee Day. "O, Siddhartha, son-in-law of our own former Chief Minister S.M. Krishna, here we come," screamed each one of us in silence and walked in (see pic). For the first time in nearly 10 days, our mouth started watering seeing hot samosas with chutney, that we washed down with Indian coffee even as its aroma set our nostrils flapping like bellows. Thank you Siddhartha. You are also our country's ambassador in a commercial way. While people like me spend country's precious foreign exchange, you bring foreign exchange to our country...

This morning as soon as the news broke about the Coffee Day King V.G. Siddhartha's disappearance at the bridge of Nethravathi River near Ullal, my wife came running to me to break the news to the good old purveyor of news that is Yours Truly. Thereafter, I was glued to the TV for a time and the events were not unfolding as fast as I expected. I decided to attend to my personal work and then headed to the temple — the workplace. If 'work is worship,' then the workplace should be the temple. Let it be.

At the Office, our Executive Editor was thoughtful enough to place on my desk a copy of the letter supposed to have been written by V.G. Siddhartha to his Board of Directors and Coffee Day family. More about it tomorrow under the title 'Tale of Three Business Tycoons' in my Abracadabra.

Browsing the letter, I understand that he was unable to take pressure from his equity partners to buy back shares and to oblige him, he had to borrow from his friend and pressure started building which he was not able to take. Apparently, pressure must have crossed the threshold. Naturally, he must have given up saying 'enough is enough.' However, I was unable to understand why there should be "lot of HARASSMENT from the previous DG, Income Tax in the form of attaching our shares on two separate occasions to block our Mindtree deal and then taking possession of our Coffee Day shares." This despite filing the revised returns and this action by the DG led to a serious liquidity crunch to the company. More on this kind of situations tomorrow.

I have been a great admirer of Siddhartha because of his uncanny sense of entrepreneurship with a volatile product like coffee. In the process he created history, probably, to the extent that even an international giant in coffee trade and business like Starbucks had to wait and even keep waiting to break into Indian market in a big way.

Surprisingly, Siddhartha is asking his addressees of the letter "to be strong and continue running these businesses with a new management." Paradoxically, however, he himself seemed not strong enough to face the challenge. Interestingly he concluded, "our assets outweigh our liabilities and can help repay everybody." I checked with one of my friends who had seen his signature and vouches that it looks like his signature.

Be that as it may, today I remember my visit to Coffee Day in Vienna, the capital of Austria in September 2017 along with my family. After visiting a concert Vienna Mozart Orchestra costing Rs. 6,545 per ticket, we were hungry like wolves and were looking for a place where we might get some South Asian food. Lo and behold ! What we see? Cafe Coffee Day. In my Abracadabra dated 29th November 2017, I had written about this visit and feel sorry to reproduce it at a time we are all worried about the miracle to happen about Siddhartha of Coffee Day:

However, there was compensation enough for us for that evening when we were taken by surprise seeing our own Cafe Coffee Day. "O, Siddhartha, son-in-law of our own former Chief Minister S.M. Krishna, here we come," screamed each one of us in silence and walked in (see pic). For the first time in nearly 10 days, our mouth started watering seeing hot samosas with chutney, that we washed down with Indian coffee even as its aroma set our nostrils flapping like bellows. Cafe Coffee Day Founder's Purported Last Letter

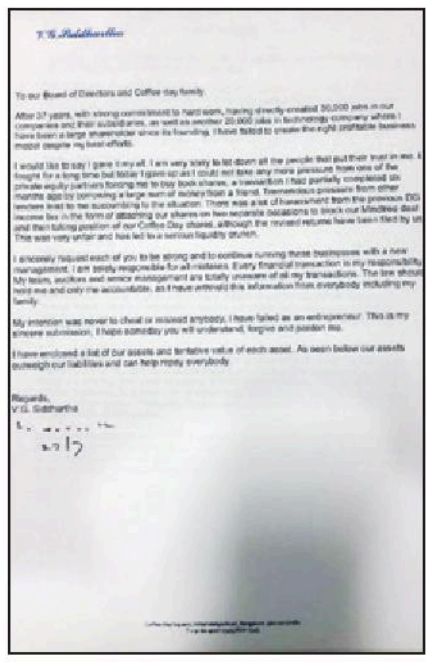
"I have failed as an entrepreneur, sorry to let you all down, forgive and pardon me"

"To our Board of Directors and Coffee Day family,

After 37 years, with strong commitment to hard work, having directly created 30,000 jobs in our companies and their subsidiaries, as well as another 20,000 jobs in technology company where I have been a large shareholder since its founding, I have failed to create the right profitable business model despite my best efforts.



I would like to say I gave it my all. I am very sorry to let down all the people that put their trust in me. I fought for a long time but today I gave up as I could not take any more pressure from one of the private equity partners forcing me to buy back shares, a transaction I had partially completed six months ago by borrowing a large sum of money from a friend. Tremendous pressure from other lenders lead to me succumbing to the situation. There was a lot of harassment from the previous DG Income Tax in the form of attaching our shares on two separate occasions to block our Mindtree deal and then taking position of our Coffee Day shares, although the revised returns have been filed by us. This was very unfair and has led to a serious liquidity crunch.

I sincerely request each of you to be strong and to continue running these businesses with a new management. I am solely responsible for all mistakes. Every financial transaction is my responsibility. My team, auditors and senior management are totally unaware of all my transactions. The law should hold me and only me accountable, as I have withheld this information from everybody including my family.

My intention was never to cheat or mislead anybody. I have failed as an entrepreneur. This is my sincere submission. I hope someday you will understand, forgive and pardon me.

I have enclosed a list of our assets and tentative value of each asset. As seen below our assets outweigh our liabilities and can help repay everybody.

Regards,
V.G. Siddhartha

Alyia will also be visiting the Brindavan Gardens to see for the first time the work of her great-grandfather which all these days she had only heard about.

She had cycled to Mysuru all the way from Bengaluru a couple of years ago and she had time only to visit the Mysore Palace where she had met Pramoda Devi Wadiyar, she recalled.

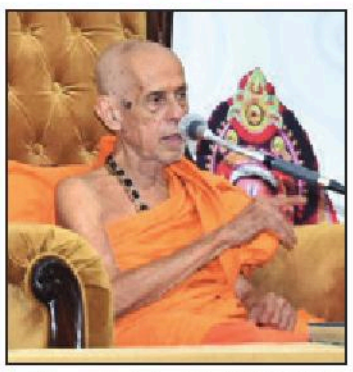
Alyia will later go to Bengaluru and plans to participate in the Independence Day Flower Show at Lalbagh. In this year's flower show, there will be a floral tribute to Sri Jayachamaraja Wadiyar, the last Maharaja of the erstwhile State of Mysore, to mark his birth centenary celebrations.

"My great-grandfather had a big role in designing the Gardens at Lalbagh and I am so happy that this year floral tributes are being paid to Maharaja Jayachamaraja Wadiyar for whom Krumbiegel had worked," she said.

Health awareness tomorrow

Mysuru, July 30- Sanssouci Wellness Clinic will be conducting an awareness programme on Health and Beauty at it premises in city tomorrow. The programme will be held between 11.30 am and 1 pm. For details contact Mob: 96112-11581.

Pejawar Seer open for discussion on Lingayat-Veerashaiva dispute



Mysuru, July 30 (RKB&SD)- "It is okay if they are not willing to have a discussion about Lingayat-Veerashaiva dispute with me, but still I am ready to have one at any time, any place," said Pejawar Seer Sri Vishwesha Theertha Swamiji.

He was addressing a press meet at Sri Krishnadhama here this morning and was responding to former bureaucrat and Mahasabha Secretary S.M. Jamadar's statement last week.

Pejawar Seer is on his 81st Chaturmasya from July 26 in the city along with 32nd Chaturmasya of Vishwa Prasanna Theertha Swamiji.

"My intention is to clear the differences we have through formal discussion regarding Lingayat-Veerashaiva dispute. I would clear any doubts with regard to the same and so I invited them to have a debate as I feel Lingayat community is part of Hinduism. Lingayats worship Shiva and recite Shiva Panchakshari Mantra. Shiva is one of many manifestations of the same all-pervasive divine power according to Hinduism," he said.

"I will be here in Mysuru till Sept.14 on Chaturmasya. I am ready to have a discussion with anybody who have doubts about my views. They can fix any date or place of their own choice but in a peaceful manner," he added.

"Many Hindu reform organisations including Ramakrishna Mutt and Arya Samaja have worked hard for betterment of society including abolition of caste discrimination. I am ready to discuss the issue with any supporter of Jamadar, Sanehalli Mutt Seer or M.B. Patil to whom I will give my answers. Even Jains and Buddhists are considered part of Hinduism, but due to long-term colonial rule and policies of Britishers, we feel we are different and divided based on caste and creed," he said.

"Politics is playing a major role here and dividing Hindus. From 1955, I have good relationship with all the Seers belonging to Lingayat community. I have even hosted Iftar meet with our Muslim brothers," he said.

"During my Chaturmasya here at Sri Krishnadhama, free health check-up and dental check-up has been arranged. We have planned to construct a hospital in Bengaluru at a cost of Rs.25 crore out of which Rs.15 crore has already been collected and for remaining amount, I request donors to contribute and assist in this noble endeavour. We have also planned to build another college in Mysuru like the existing Vijaya Vittala College. Also, Anandathirtha Vidyalaya, a residential college, would be constructed for poor students to teach traditional knowledge along with academic subjects which is a new kind of endeavour in the field of education," he said.

Driver's Complaint

In his complaint to the Mangaluru Police, Siddhartha's driver Basavaraj Patil has said that V.G. Siddhartha left home for office at around 11 am yesterday and returned at 12.30 pm. He was then asked to pack his bags as Siddhartha was scheduled to go out of town. At 12.30 pm they left.

He (Patil) further said that Siddhartha had told him that they were travelling towards Sakleshpur, however, in the mid-way he (Siddhartha) decided to take a detour and go to Mangaluru. Following this, Patil was directed to take the road that led to Netravathi River Bridge.

Letter to the Board of Directors

Meanwhile, V.G. Siddhartha, on July 27 (three days before he went missing) has also written a letter to the Board of Directors and Coffee Day family members stating that he had failed as an entrepreneur and he was sorry for letting down people who had put their trust on him. He has also accused former DG Income Tax for harassment. [see Page-8 for the letter]

The news about Siddhartha going missing spread like a wildfire across the State. Hundreds of his relatives, friends, politicians, employees of Coffee Day and Mindtree gathered at S.M. Krishna's Sadashivanagar residence in Bengaluru.

Former Prime Minister H.D. Devegowda, Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa, former Chief Ministers Veerappa Moily and H.D. Kumaraswamy, former MP Mallikarjuna Kharge, MLA Priyank Kharge, former Dy.CM R. Ashoka, former MLA Vatal Nagaraj, MLA H.K. Patil, former Minister Roshan Baig, actors Puneeth Rajkumar, Raghavendra Rajkumar were among those who visited S.M. Krishna's residence this morning.

However, the search for Siddhartha was still on at the time we went to the Press.

S.M. Krishna-Siddhartha connection

Siddhartha is married to S.M. Krishna's first daughter Malavika and have two sons — Ishan and Amartya. Apart from running Cafe Coffee Day, Siddhartha also owns hospitality chain that runs seven-star resorts The Serai (located in Bandipur, Chikkamagaluru and Kabini) and Cicada (located in Kabini and Bandipur).

Siddhartha, born to Gangaiah Hedge and Amrutha Hedge, is from a coffee growing family in Chikkamagaluru which has been in the business for more than 130 years.

Coffee Day shares plunge

Meanwhile, shares of Coffee Day Enterprises plunged by 20 percent this morning following reports of Siddhartha's disappearance last night. The company was scheduled to announce its June quarter results on Aug.8.

Sources said that Siddhartha had recently been in talks with Coca Cola offering the multi-national giant a stake in the coffee retail business. His coffee retail business was expecting to close the year ending March 2020 with sales of about Rs.2,250 crore.

A post-graduate in Economics, Siddhartha's family is the largest individual coffee planter, owning about 15,000 acres of coffee estates. He opened his first Cafe Coffee Day (CCD) outlet in August 1996 in Bengaluru's, Brigade Road.

Currently, the chain has expanded with 1,550 stores with outlets in several international locations including Austria, Czech Republic and Malaysia. According to a Forbes report, Siddhartha is worth more than 1.15 billion dollars and had shares in tech company Mindtree until March 2019 when he sold them to L&T.

Coffee Day declares holiday

Meanwhile, the Coffee Day Global Limited, located on Belur Road in Hassan, declared holiday following the disappearance of its Founder Siddhartha. There are about 30,000 employees working companies owned by Siddhartha's family.

Siddhartha's father treated in Mysuru

Siddhartha's father Gangaiah Hedge, aged about 90 years, was in Mysuru recently to get treated for a medical condition at the Gopal Gowda Hospital in Nazarbad. Hospital sources said that Gangaiah Hedge was treated at the hospital for 15 days before being discharged on July 28.

Meanwhile, former Chief Minister S.M. Krishna and Prema Krishna, his wife, had visited the hospital on July 25 while returning from Srikanteshwara Temple in Nanjangud and Chamundeshwari Temple atop Chamundi Hill in city.

Job Mela: 436 candidates out of 580 get placements

Arpita Simha

Mysuru, July 30 (RKB&NN)-Prime Minister Narendra Modi established Pradhan Mantri Kaushal Kendra (PMKK) for the benefit of jobless who are both graduates and non-graduates under the Pradhan Mantri Kaushal Vikas Yojana (PMKVY), which is a flagship programme of the PM, said Arpita Simha, wife of MP Pratap Simha.

She was speaking after inaugurating 'Rojgar Mela' (Job Fair) organised by Excelus, National Skill Development Corporation and PMKVY at the PMKK office in Yelwal Bus Stand premises on the outskirts of Mysuru, here yesterday and said there is no job big or small and even if a sweeper's job is done with dignity, the person doing well will be recognised.

There will be a lot of employment opportunities in the near future as Mysuru is now well connected with road, rail and air services. But one should not stick for jobs in Mysuru only and must be prepared to go anywhere for better job opportunities, she said.

District Skill Development Officer Shivanna said that the first Job Mela was held in March but from the experience he had, he found that both the aspirants and the parents wanted jobs only in Mysuru though there were high paying jobs available in other places.

This fixed mindset about Mysuru-centric jobs must go and the candidates must be prepared to go anywhere for better prospects and job growth, he advised.

Nearly 25 companies participated in the 3rd Rojgar Mela.

The first Job Fair was held in 2018 March where 464 participated and there were 274 placements; in the second Job Mela held in Jan.2019 at the same PMKK venue, there were 500 aspirants with 352 placements and in today's Fair 580 aspirants had registered out of which 436 were placed in different companies.

Free skill training, job placement assistance: Those with SSLC, PUC, Diploma or graduates in any discipline aged between 18 and 35 unemployed youth will get free skill training and assistance for job placements at the PMKK centre.

The courses for which training is done includes Assistant Electrician (55 days), Food and Beverages (45 days), Retail Sales Association (40 days), Domestic IT Help Desk Attendant (55 days), Field Technician—Other Home Appliances (50 days), Field Technician—Computer and Peripherals (55 days).

Training is given in basic computer and spoken English. Interested candidates may register their names along with education qualification documents, bank account details at PMKK Office in Yelwal. Meritorious SC/ST students feted

Mysuru, July 30 (PM&US)-Karnataka Dalit Vedike, marking its 10th anniversary, had organised a programme at Maharaja's College Centenary Hall here on Sunday where pratibha puraskar was presented to meritorious SC/ST students and Karunada Bhushana award was conferred on achievers in various fields.

He bemoaned that Democracy in the country had reached a point of extinction and the humble people were at the receiving end.

MCDCC Bank President G.D. Harishgowda asked youngsters to follow the principles of Buddha, Basava and Ambedkar.

Mysuru, July 30 (RKB&NNN)- Tailoring is a very noble profession as it clothes a person and protects his or her dignity. She was speaking after inaugurating the 6th matrimonial meet organised by Vittala Rukmini Charitable Trust at Vittala Rukmini Convention Hall on Hunsur Road here on Sunday.

In a profession which has hundreds of years of history, the youth of the Bhavasar community have proudly stuck to tailoring without depending on Government or other jobs. But our community girls are ignoring them and instead preferring engineers, doctors and other profession boys which is not correct. Then what will happen to the youths who depend on tailoring for their lives, she questioned.

At least in the future the parents must make the girls realise that tailors earn as much as those in Government jobs and start respecting the tailoring profession, suggested Lalitha.

Ramesh Nazare, community leaders Rakesh Naik, Shailesh Nazare, Archana Vadone, Narendranath Navale, Vittal Rao Lalige, Narayan Rao Telkar, Narayan Rao Sarode, Shankar Rao Anchalkar, Nagaraj Pathange, Govind Rao Kutnikar, Umapathi Ghanathe, Chaitanyakumar Hiraskar, Ashok Nazare and others were present.

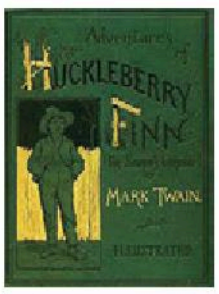
WORD OF THE DAY

Bildungsroman



Pronunciation: BIL-doonks-roh-mahn.
Meaning: A novel about the moral and psychological growth of the main character.
Origin: Bildungsroman is the combination of two German words: Bildung, meaning "education," and Roman, meaning "novel." Fittingly, a bildungsroman is a novel that deals with the formative years of the main character, and in particular, with the character's psychological development and moral education. The bildungsroman usually ends on a positive note, with the hero's foolish mistakes and painful disappointments over, and a life of usefulness ahead. Johann Wolfgang von Goethe's late 18th-century work Wilhelm Meisters Lehrjahre (Wilhelm Meister's Apprenticeship) is often cited as the classic example of a bildungsroman.
Example: "In its way, this is a very novelistic film, with the accretion of detail you might expect from a Bildungsroman.... We see what Cleo sees, we wonder what and how she feels, we build up our investment of sympathy with her, and it all leads to a heartrending payoff." — Peter Bradshaw, The Guardian (London).

THE ODD WORD

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Beg the question

Meaning: This is one of those rare phrases in which the meaning is more debated than the origin. The usage that has become common in recent years has a meaning something along the lines of 'prompt/raise the question', that is, 'beg that the question be asked'.
Origin: This is usually seen in circumstances where something is described and then an explanation is sought; for example, this piece from a 2003 edition of the Jamaican newspaper The Gleaner: What we are saying here is that every 2 days a juvenile is arrested and it begs the question, "What is really happening to our parents?" This usage is understandable and has presumably come about by interpreting the 'beg' of 'beg the question' as 'request' or 'humbly submit'. This is the meaning of the word in the similar phrase 'beg to differ'. The actual meaning is quite different. To 'beg the question' means to talk about a question as though it were true, even though it might not be. This is almost the opposite of the commonly understood 'beg that the question be asked' meaning in that it means 'cause the question not be asked'. In more contemporary language we might call begging the question as a circular argument or a self-fulfilling prophesy.
